FACULTY

DEAN'S MESSAGE

WILLIAM J. KINNARD, JR. Ph.D., Dean.

Ethics, integrity and honesty are words that seemingly have become eroded in our society by the winds of time. Pharmacy has been built on the traditional foundation of integrity which is centered on the control procedures involved in the dispensing of drugs. Has that, too, been eroded? I think not. Thus, while the practice of pharmacy is changing, the key part of its standards of practice is not.

You as a new pharmacy practitioner must strive to achieve and maintain the same high level of ethics that has been traditionally established. This will not be easily done since there are numerous present day as well as future situations, the latter produced by changing pharmacy roles, that will challenge those ethical standards.

The maintenance of your integrity requires that you be honest with yourself, something that requires you know your own abilities and responsibilities, and that you consider them in light of your own practice. Don't yield to external non-professional pressures to practice in a manner that you know is demeaning to you as an individual and dishonest or even harmful to your patient.

SAPhA this year underwent a number of important changes as well as performing a number of services to the community of Baltimore.

Most of the changes involved making the affiliation between APhA, MPhA and SAPhA a more active one. We saw the renaming of the SAPhA newsletter now known as the Student Pharmacist. APhA renamed its monthly journal, now The American Pharmacist. This was the first year SAPhA had a voting member on the MPhA Board of Trustees.

SAPhA members participated in several blood pressure screenings and had a number of bake sales. The SAPhA Regional was held in Philadelphia, PA, and members attended in full regalia. The National Convention was held in Montreal Canada and proved to be both informative and enjoyable. Members started a student lecture series and discussed such topics as 'Opportunities in Pharmacy' and 'The Use of Laetrile as a Cancer Preventative.'

The Student Committee on Drug Abuse Education has functioned over the past year to provide many services to the lay public, drug councellors, and other medical personnel. As in the past the committee has presented a large amount of elementary, junior, senior high school students an education in the area of drug use and abuse. In addition to this, SCODAE publishes Pharm-Alert which is distributed to over 4000 people in the health and related fields. This year our role was expanded by a grant from the Drug Abuse Administration and includes acting as one of their information sources. With the interest generated in the Third year class and the continued work of the Fourth and Fifth year students, this year was indeed a fruitful one.

The spirit of fraternalism was shared by the fraters of Kappa Chapter during participation in their many activities. These included: eight bake sales; a spaghetti Rush Dinner; hosting the Fall Regional Convention at the Lord Baltimore Hotel; a ski trip to Mont Sutton located in Quebec Canada; attendance at the "Unofficial Undergraduate Convention" hosted by Beta at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, PA; attendance at the Spring Regional in St. Louis, MO; and the Fredrick T. Berman Seminar.

The University of Maryland School of Pharmacy has endorsed AZO efforts to upgrade the profession of pharmacy through continuing education. The Fredrick T. Berman Seminar is now a permanent part of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy Continuing Education Program. This is an accomplishment of which AZO can be proud.

The University of Maryland's "Sigma" Chapter of Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity hosted the annual Province III convention this year. The participants included brothers from many campuses throughout the mid Atlantic region of the United States. Among the topics discussed at the Quality Inn in Catonsville were amendments to the constitution, various professional topics and individual chapter reports. Although most of the chapters presented outstanding achievements throughout the past year benefiting both the Fraternity and the profession of Pharmacy, Maryland's accomplishments in recent years prevailed during the meetings. Our consistent increases in membership and work in various projects such as sponsorship of the schoolwide blood assurance program awarded Sigma the honor of 'Chapter of the Year' for 1978.

Later at the banquet dinner Dean Kinnard, an honored alumnus of Kappa Psi, spoke to the brothers attending on the Fraternity's influence on Pharmacy. Finally a dance featuring one of Baltimore's top bands concluded the weekend events instilling unforgettable memories in the minds of the brothers on their journeys homeward.

Brothers of Phi Delta Chi had a successful year both professionally and socially.

Iota's primary professional project was a blood pressure screening which drew an estimated 350 people. Currently the fraternity is planning a diabetes screening to be operated out of community pharmacies.

Social activities included several Rush parties, spaghetti and lasagna dinners, numerous frat parties, bake sales, HELL NIGHT, the Alumni Banquet, and a victory over Kappa Psi in football.

During the past year Iota was able to recruit many new members who are working hard to meet the high standards set forth by the fraternity. One of Iota's accomplishments was the inclusion of women into the chapter.
